

Université Lille 1 Sciences et Technologie

PROFILE

Deeply rooted in the Nord-Pas-de Calais region for more than four hundred years, Lille 1 is continually raising its international profile through research and teaching instruction. With an enrollment of 20,000 students, including 4,095 foreign students, and a faculty and staff of 2,700, Lille 1 is also France's leader in continuing education.

Lille 1 has arranged numerous international partnerships to foster joint research, joint thesis direction, and student exchanges leading to dual degrees.

University Lille 1 is now part of the European program Erasmus Mundus External Cooperation Window.

Lille 1 offers a variety of educational programs in science and technology, economics and management, the humanities, and the social sciences. Composed principally of 9 teaching and research faculties, the university also has a school of business administration (IAE), a university institute of technology, and three engineering schools (ENIC, ENSCL, and Polytech'Lille).

Lille 1 has 45 laboratories, of which 33 are affiliated with the large research organizations (CNRS, INRA, INSERM). Its six technological research teams conduct important research jointly with private enterprise.

International students attending Lille 1 on exchange programs receive an array of valuable services, including:

- orientation, housing, registration assistance, tutoring
- programs in French as a foreign language (short intensive sessions or a program of 75 hours a semester), one-semester special programs (under Chinese partnerships), and other programs with other regional partners.
